El Camino High

Colt Pride

Located in the foothills of San Bruno in South San Francisco, El Camino High School is a four-year public American high school. It is one of three high schools in the South San Francisco Unified School District.

El Camino or “Elco” as it is often referred to offers many opportunities for student participation and academic excellence. El Camino is more than just a school—ECHS is a family and a place where students receive the experience needed to be successful throughout the remainder of their lives.

The Mission Statement of El Camino High School

The Mission of El Camino High School is to provide each student with a strong, standards-based academic and elective program conducted in a safe and supportive environment, with a staff dedicated to providing each student with the opportunities to acquire knowledge, skills and attitudes which empower him/her to achieve his/her potential. The school will promote a respect for cultural diversity and communicate on a regular basis with parents and/or guardians.

“Lift where you stand.”

El Camino High School is committed to providing opportunities for our students to be successful in the future.

In partnership with Genentech, students at El Camino attend class in our new Science building, in addition to attending field trips and events with Genentech. Award-winning teachers offer additional cutting-edge courses as student interest and need arises.

Creativity and performing arts are encouraged and supported as well. El Camino offers an award-winning theater, visual arts, band, choir, and dance program.

El Camino High School also provides opportunities for students to focus on their physical well-being through participation in yoga and meditation classes, as well as joining a variety of sports teams. Our new sports field offers opportunities for students as well as the community to focus on physical fitness.

El Camino High School: more than just a school—ECHS is a family.
